A TAPOVAN is a wilderness or forest of spiritual practice (from the Sanskrit; Wikipedia). The Galiano Tapovan Peace Park is 200-acres of forested land, privately held and dedicated to the life of Sri Chinmoy (1931 - 2007) and his everlasting message of peace. The trails and places of rest are intended to offer visitors avenues of inner reflection and joy. Along the trails you will find Sri Chinmoy's inspirational quotes on peace, life and happiness, as well as a statue of him which stands on the ridge.

Hiking trails within have been developed by the Galiano Trails Society and Deer Path Design. The stone staircase leading to the ridge is steep and sometimes slippery and we urge you to be cautious, stick to the inner side of the steps and use the ropes. Please ensure dogs are on leash on the stone staircase.

The TAPOVAN is not a campground!
Please do not litter and take out everything that you bring in.

There is a vault toilet near Porlier Pass,
at the entrance to the park.
